It also has a short slide show on Data Analytics for Students Guide.

After Tableau verifies your academic credentials, you will receive download links for Tableau Desktop and Tableau Prep

You will also get a product key, as well as a link to their eLearning website, which you can use for free as a student.

You can install Tableau Desktop and also Tableau Prep (for data preparation before visualization) with the key.

Once they are installed and opened, check Help-->Manage Licenses and check that your license shows up.

Please note that it can take several days for Tableau to verify your credentials.

So if you wait until the last minute, you will not be able to complete the orientation in time to get credit for it.
